Anti federalist papers 3 summary.The present invention relates to a polyarylene sulfide resin composition in which a polyarylene sulfide resin, carbon fibers, and a carbonizable plasticizer are compatibilized, and a molded article obtained by molding the composition. More particularly, the present invention relates to a polyarylene sulfide resin composition having a high compatibility, which is easy to mold, has an excellent molding property, and consequently can obtain a molded article having an excellent appearance and mechanical properties, and a molded article obtained by molding the composition. Polyarylene sulfides which are represented by polyphenylene sulfide are excellent in mechanical properties and heat resistance, and are therefore widely used in various applications. However, since polyarylene sulfides have an unfavorable molding property, if a molded article is produced from a composition comprising a polyarylene sulfide resin and another resin, which is widely used as a resin for injection molding or extrusion molding, the molded article is often flawed in appearance. Thus, there has been a demand for a polyarylene sulfide resin composition which can solve the problem. Japanese Patent Laid-Open No. 108501/1996 (Japanese Patent No. 2833610) discloses a method for improving the molding property of a polyarylene sulfide resin by adding a carbonizable plasticizer such as dicyclopentadiene to the polyarylene sulfide resin. According to this method, however, although the composition can be molded with good appearance, the effect of improving the molding property is insufficient, and the mechanical properties of a molded article obtained therefrom are also insufficient. An object of the present invention is to provide a polyarylene sulfide resin composition which is easy to mold, has an excellent molding property, and can obtain a molded article having an excellent appearance and mechanical properties. The present inventors have carried out extensive studies in order to achieve the above object, and as a result, they have found that a polyarylene sulfide resin composition having an excellent compatibility, which has a high degree of compatibility with a carbonizable plastic
