[Forensic aspects of hemodynamic factors in rape. Analysis of the retinal hemorrhages]. The autopsy findings as well as the relevant literature and personal experience were analyzed in 29 cases of corpus rape. The retinal hemorrhages found in two cases were discussed. Hemodynamic factors were not analyzed. Due to the limited number of cases the findings are insufficient to draw any conclusion regarding a possible causal relationship. However, the present data are in accordance with the findings of literature on intracranial hemorrhages. On account of the comparatively frequent occurrence of retinal hemorrhages it is necessary to ascertain, in cases of corpus rape in which there are no other external signs of bleeding, whether such hemorrhages are due to a vasculo-necrotic degeneration or were caused by trauma, and to perform a forensic investigation of the central nervous system in these cases in order to exclude intracranial bleeding.A way to access the truth Does the truth exist? According to some of the people I have been talking to lately, the truth does not exist. I am thinking that this is the same thinking that led to the Europeans after they encountered the truth about who the Native Americans were. They went through the same thing. They started searching for it and the truth was nowhere to be found. I was reading about the life of Jesus and was reading how he was arrested and crucified. I was reading the words of the Bible in Matthew 27:26. It said, "About the ninth hour Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani (my God, my God, why have you forsaken me)." I was thinking about how the man who gave us this prophecy, the prophet, came back to his home, and began to search for the truth. He searched and searched and did not find it. He cried out loud, but the truth was nowhere to be found. He gave up, and had no clue of what was going on. I think he was of the same thought when Jesus was arrested. That's why he did the same thing as Jesus. He gave up, and said, "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?" I am sure that the truth would not have come into the world, if Jesus had not come with all that he has. I am sure of that. He laid the foundation and it can't be shaken.
