John Kasich signs an executive order authorizing the distribution of concealed firearms through the state as part of the order taking effect March 5, 2016.(Photo: Matt Krantz, AP) Ohio Gov. John Kasich on Tuesday signed an executive order calling for the release of records of concealed handgun permits and a statewide database to be created to keep track of them. The order will be in effect March 5 and is intended to increase access to a concealed handgun permit in the Buckeye State. "I think everyone benefits when, in fact, we have things like better background checks, better reporting, and the like," Kasich said. "But I think one of the more important things we can do is give people the chance to take advantage of an opportunity to get a concealed carry permit." The new law will make it easier for residents to obtain a concealed carry permit and will also require all active permits to be entered into a database and put online. The new law will also take effect in March, and will make it easier for residents to obtain a concealed carry permit and will also require all active permits to be entered into a database and put online. The Ohio state flag is displayed in Columbus, Ohio, Friday, Nov. 29, 2015. The state has emerged from a recession that began a decade ago and is on track for 5.3 percent growth in 2016, the fastest pace in a decade. (AP Photo/John Minchillo) The new law will be state-wide and will provide broader access for people who want to exercise their constitutional right to defend themselves and others. Kasich said the new law addresses those who aren't aware they have a concealed carry permit. "You've got a friend in here or you have a relative in here that never knew they had a permit," he said. Kasich said he will work with Republican legislative leaders in Columbus to create a coordinated agenda to raise gun safety while allowing for individual rights for gun ownership. The new law will also take effect in March, and will make it easier for residents to obtain a concealed carry permit and will also require all active permits to be entered into a database and put online. Kasich said the new law addresses those who aren't aware they have a concealed carry permit. "You

About This Game The original game was released in 2008. It's not an old game but a very common 2D games. Over the last decade it has become one of the most popular 2D games. In 2016 it has been updated to match high-end standards of the mobile games. Unlike many free games available on this site, this game is not a cheap clone but authentic classic. It's a historical action game about 3 blind people and a dog that help them find their way through dangerous places. Using everything in their power, the hero and the dog take you through various challenging stages including blindfolded challenges and parades. The game allows you to experience in historic alleys, behind the monastery walls and under the fortress, and make you feel as if you are playing in the old Europe. Features: Character: Blind people and a dog The game is free to play but has in-game purchases Objects: Trashcan, lamp, chair, clapper, cannon balls, etc The game has about 30 levels (like in Temple Run or Jetpack Joyride). Similar free games: Pirate Race, Temple Run 2, Jetpack Joyride Some reviews written by our community: I want to tell you that I bought these game for my girlfriend for her birthday. it was online in their store. but I bought it before the day and I was so happy to take it to my home pc after work. this game is amazing. I want to tell you that I am not a new player for 2d games. I played this game before on my mobile as a competition game. and I must say this game is so much more better than it was before. give it a try. I am sure you will love it Secret-of-the-Solstice-private-server-download. So much fun to play blind in difficult, dangerous settings. The game is heavily oriented on environment and chance. It also has a certain charm that distinguishes itself from the crowd with the bright color scheme of the game. I recommend to play it if you are in a good mood. First of all, I want to say that I consider myself the best gamer in the world. However, after so many years I have to say that this game is better than any other 2D game. When I started playing in the 1990's, this game was one of the most popular ones. Now,

A: Wow. I've just gone out and bought the game, as well as some of the DLC after reading all of the in-game comments at the start. I have got to say, what a fantastic game! I was sceptical about the bad quality of the screenshots, but I was immediately greeted with an array of enemies, that looked so exciting I didn't feel the need to read a single line of text. Within a few minutes of starting up the game, I was feeling the thrill of collecting coins and experience. I hope to be able to unlock that beautiful multiplayer map, soon enough. Q: How to send a JSON object with POST request in XMLHttpRequest? How to send a JSON object with POST request in XMLHttpRequest? I tried this, but the console doesn't print the object. $.ajax({ type: 'POST', url: '', async: false, dataType: 'json', data: { name: 'Jane Doe', age: 23, department: 'Software' }, success: function(data) { console.log(data); } }); I would like to send a JSON object with request like this, but this won't work. data: $("#form").serialize() A: If you are using jquery already, you don't need to use ajax, simply use the following code $(function() { $("#form").on('submit', function(e){ e.preventDefault(); console.log(this.serialize()); }); }); form is the id of the form tag as you can see, the data is serialized as a string, you can use it to pass in to the server Wednesday, August 17, 2010 Dessert Tuesday Today I whipped up a recipe for Mini Fat
