What's new in Elden Ring:

• Your Greeting from Staff Based on these fundamental features, we would like to introduce our original fantasy RPG A Touch of Evil which developed through close cooperation between us and the legendary Japanese production house TOSE. When crafting the setting we felt the mix between WESTERN style and Japanese folk such as SCUFFLE HAT or SEKIGAHARA'S NAMAMONO. We wanted to express the power of ancient monsters while ultimately trying to capture the aesthetics of today's youth who would love a fantasy that could give them a sense of adventure. In an effort to further challenge our target audience, we intended to develop a game of the highest quality. We hope you enjoy it as well...We appreciate your support! P.S. If you wish to purchase additional goods, we will of course take this into consideration.

How long do you guys think you'll be flying gold before we can start dualising through this? For me, I may have cancelled my beta now because I made a mistake and picked up Limited Time beta instead of Premium anyhow but if things go according to plan, it might result in a Potential drop in beta access. For me, I have cancelled my beta now because I made a mistake and picked up Limited Time beta instead of Premium anyhow but if things go according to plan, it might result in a Potential drop in beta access. How does that work? I understand tier 1 and 2 beta, the other tiers are just tiers for the actual game, right? For me, I may have cancelled my beta now because I made a mistake picked up Limited Time beta instead of Premium anyhow but things go according to plan, it might result in a Potential drop in access. I think Blizzard might be planning more tiers for this. At least tier 3 and 4 beta. How does that work? I understand tier 1 and 2 beta, but the other tiers are just tiers for the actual game, right? Yes and no. There is always one tester who is picked from each tier 1 and 2 and they go through the whole beta with that group and from the two testers in each group there are two chosen to beta test with each exclusive item. Premium, once the beta has ended, doesn't mean you are in the latest beta. The best version available is the final version of the game.
