Les Mills reviews is an independent service providing free Les Mills reviews of the bodybuilding gym Les Mills Fitness. The company said today it had completed a $1.6 billion, 50/50 joint venture with China Construction of Textile Co, Ltd, in which the latter will produce ZERODUR® glass tiles and the former will source and market those tiles to the building materials market. The joint venture is expected to contribute revenue of approximately CNY 10 billion ($1.5 billion) to ZERODUR® and CCS over the next seven years. ZERODUR® is a leading brand of glass tiles for interiors in China, while CCS is one of China's largest construction and building materials companies. The joint venture will also develop a new production line to manufacture energy- and water-saving glass tiles for building facades. This line is expected to be operational by end-2012. The new production line will significantly expand the annual production capacity of ZERODUR® tiles and its products, from approximately 10 million square meters per annum currently to 20 million square meters per annum by end-2016. The MoDem joint venture between Moen AG and Mapei SpA is an industrial success story and the first of its kind in the world. With the new product extensions, ZERODUR® will gain a significant competitive advantage in interior products to the cost, quality and performance of ZERODUR® glass tiles. The joint venture will also consolidate the company's finances by strengthening the balance sheet and by allowing management to concentrate on core business, especially in production and marketing of ZERODUR® glass tiles. As of March 31, 2011, ZERODUR® had reported consolidated group sales of approximately €710 million. The combination of businesses results in a number of synergies. For example, as part of this transaction, ZERODUR® will employ an additional 2,000 workers at its facilities in Germany and China. These employees, together with the existing employees, will carry out around 4,500 processes per year. ZERODUR® glass tiles have been an established market leader for years. In the joint venture, Moen will gain a high-quality and experienced production, purchasing and marketing network for its interior products, including ZERODUR®. As part of the MoDem joint venture, Moen will supply 90 percent of the market share for glass tiles in China, representing over 85 percent of the revenue 6d1f23a050
