For the first time in dental history, orthodontics training in the country can be fully online. TECH was designed to provide students who are not able to attend regular courses a high-quality course on the market, with flexible scheduling and a low cost. This gives students who are unable to travel the possibility of completing their learning and training. This program is designed to teach all aspects of orthodontics and Dentofacial Orthopedics, from diagnosis to treatment planning. Students will complete a suite of courses designed to provide the learner with a comprehensive understanding of the subject, with an opportunity to apply the learned concepts in a simulated environment, using digital tools and video materials, an exciting and interactive environment that responds to the needs of the learner. The study was conducted from February 2011 to December 2014. The orthodontic treatment procedures were performed in the Department of Orthodontics, School of Dentistry, Faculty of Health Sciences, University of Pretoria, Pretoria, South Africa, whereas the orthopedic treatment was performed in the Department of Orthopedics, Baragwanath Hospital, Johannesburg, South Africa. The study sample consisted of 101 children treated orthodontically with fixed orthodontic appliances (mean age: 8.3 years, range: 6 to 12 years) or fixed orthopedic appliances with crowns for their primary dentition and extractions of permanent teeth (mean age: 7.8 years, range: 5 to 12 years) who were completed for a period of 6 months. Some of the children were under the care of the orthodontic service, whereas others were referred from the Department of Orthopedics for treatment.

Boards. This online program can also be renewed each year for a yearly fee, and is an accredited program. According to Seibert (2010), 21 one goal of orthodontics and dentofacial orthopedics is to maximize the potential of the maxillary and mandibular arches for achieving optimal facial aesthetics and function; mandibular advancement is important for aesthetic goals, and forward positioning of the mandible is needed to permit maximal intercuspation for occlusion. One of the greatest challenges in orthodontics is correctly predicting the extent of the therapeutic outcome from a particular treatment plan. 13, 15 Accurate prediction of the extent of treatment-related change in the craniofacial complex is often critical in guiding treatment selection. A standardization of the malocclusion paradigm and a uniform definition of malocclusion is desirable for the future of the profession of orthodontics and the creation of greater uniformity and continuity of care in the delivery of dental care. 8, 13 5ec8ef588b
