I am reading json files which are returned from a REST service and the result is an object populated with that data, which I then want to pass to a class. How do I initialise the properties of the class when reading the data from the JSON files? I am using json.net and had read the documentation, but did not find any examples of how to do this properly. I'm pretty new to working with JSON and still trying to figure this out. This is my class: public class Drivers { public string ID { get; set; } public string FirstName { get; set; } public string LastName { get; set; } public string FullName { get; set; } public List DriversInfo { get; set; } } public class DriversInfo { public string DriverName { get; set; } public List Vehicles { get; set; } public List Orders { get; set; } } 04aeff104c
